Fall 2009

3rd Annual Gala

The 3rd Annual Gala was a tremendous success. With the generosity of our corporate sponsors and many other committed people, we raised $64,000. No More Stolen Childhoods will use this money to bring the Safe Kid Club program to the community in our effort to empower children to stay safe from predators. Celebree Learning Centers will launch the program in their centers in early November.

Safe Kid Club

No More Stolen Childhoods unveiled the Safe Kid Club program at its 3rd annual gala. The positive safety education program empowers children to be strong, safe, and smart. Cheerful characters and a fun coloring book capture the children's attention. It is also designed to encourage parents and caregivers to talk with their children about basic safety.

Calling All Sports Enthusiasts

No More Stolen Childhoods is offering two great opportunities to support our organization while enjoying the great outdoors and comradery of other sportsmen and women:

- ◆ Join us and former Oriole catcher, Chris Hoiles, at the Fall Sporting Clay event at Goose Green Farm on November 6th. What's new this fall? Tips from professional instructors, new and used high-end guns to demo supplied by Barts Sports World, and a chance to win a celebrity hunting trip sponsored by The Hoiles-Gladstone Group.
- ◆ A round of golf anyone? Place your winning bid on a six-person, three-night stay at the luxury Pinehurst home, The DogDen. The online eBay auction begins October 16th and closes on the 26th. Ebay listing - Pinehurst Golf Vacation, item #200393811942

No More Stolen Childhoods Speaks Out

No More Stolen Childhoods is standing up, speaking out, and fighting to help victims heal and to keep our children safe. No More Stolen Childhoods founder, Wayne Coffey, recently spoke at the Sunrise Rotary Club of Ellicott City and will be sharing his story of survival and healing at the annual Mid-Atlantic Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect on October 28th. No More Stolen Childhoods is also spreading the word about our mission and work by sponsoring a booth at the AIMS (Association of Independent Schools of MD) and MD PTA fall conventions in November.

Founder, Wayne Coffey
